THE STORY :

Rachel Watson (Emily Blunt) is an alcoholic who divorced her husband, Tom Watson (Justin Theroux), after catching him cheating on her with their real estate agent, Anna Boyd (Rebecca Ferguson). During their marriage, Rachel was prone to alcohol-induced blackouts to which she attributes the ending of their marriage, in addition to her being sterile. She spends her days commuting on a train and often stalking Tom, Anna, and their newborn daughter Evie. During her trips, Rachel grows fascinated with Tom's neighbors, Scott (Luke Evans) and Megan Hipwell (Haley Bennett), a young couple in what Rachel believes is a perfect marriage....

OUR REVIEW :

Almost every character is deceitful, self-destructive and delusional, this psychological thriller is clearly not everyone's cup of tea. Rachel (Emily Blunt) lives by technicality. Like a ghost, she haunts her ancient days, speeding past the lives she knew, the life she wanted. Her insanity and struggle to find a sense of worth and purpose in her miserable life is devastating. Rachel gets help from others at times. Emily Blunt, in this film, is being a total revelation as she evokes sympathy in her messed up character... And the casting is near perfect.
